Ms. Charlotte Arribe

Sustainable Development Consultant

UN Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific – East and North East Asia Office (UNESCAP-ENEAE)

Ms. Charlotte Arribe is a Sustainable Development Consultant at the UNESCAP East and North-East Asia Office. Her main areas of work focus on policy around innovation & technology, youth, gender, urban regeneration and regional integration. In this context, she works on the Citypreneurs Initiative to help cities to (1) simultaneously address their urban challenges and the SDGs, to (2) mobilize multistakeholder cooperation to lead cities towards inclusive growth, prosperity and well-being, and (3) provide opportunities to young people to solve challenges they care about through innovation. Prior to this, she was a Creative Strategist for a Korean online platform start-up, the Assistant Director of Korea Programs for the Youth Diplomacy & Language Institute (NPO), and a Youth Program Specialist in Singapore. During her time at Sciences Po, she worked on the “Management of Social Transformations” (MOST) program, a Regional Integration project under UNESCO’s Policy and International Cooperation division in Paris. She received a B.A. in International Relations and Cultural Anthropology from University of California, Davis, and an M.A. of Global Affairs & Policy in International Development Cooperation and Law & Organizations from Yonsei University, Seoul.
